Dear Lucile,

glad to know you like the article!

Yes, in August, once the article's published, I'll put it into the university repository with full accreditation to JoSTrans as the original publisher.

Thanks for replying so quickly,
all best,
Jon

Dear Jonathan,

We aim for dissemination, so of course we'll allow you to do this, as long as you acknowledge the publication, perhaps in August, once the article has been published?
I like your article very much, thank you!

Kind regards,

Lucile

Objet : Copyright for articles in JoSTrans

Dear Dr Desblache,

I have an article forthcoming in the next issue of JoSTrans (issue 20) and I was wondering about the copyright for the article. I can't find any statement anywhere on the site about the copyright conditions for articles.

If it's possible, I would like my work shared under a Creative Commons Attribution -- Non-commercial -- Share Alike License (see here: http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-sa/3.0/deed.en\_US ). This would allow me to put it into my university repository or on a website with accreditation to JoSTrans as the original place of publication, as well as allowing all sorts of other non-commercial uses of the article.

Please let me know if this is possible, and, if not, what the usual copyright terms are for articles in JoSTrans.

Thanks in advance,
all best,
Jonathan Evans
