

Contents

Abstract	ii
Contents	iii
Declaration	x
Abbreviations	xi
Acknowledgements	xiii
Dedication	xiv
Introduction	15
Aim of the Thesis	22
Structure of the Thesis	28
1 The Conceptualisation of Miscarriages of Justice	33
Miscarriages of Justice and Innocence	36
The Supreme Court: Miscarriages of Justice and Compensation	44
Sociological Perspectives of Miscarriages of Justice	46
A Rights-Based Approach to Miscarriages of Justice	47
Unjustified Conviction	49
Mistaken Conviction	50
Unjustified Acquittal	51
Deconstructing Miscarriages of Justice	54
Miscarriages of Justice and the Media	56
The Media and the Legal System: Definitions of Miscarriage of Justice	56

	Crime News, Values and Selectivity	59
	Conclusion	66
2	Victims of Miscarriages of Justice	68
	Victim Definitions	69
	Victims and Survivors	72
	The Consequences of Victimisation	75
	Secondary Victims: Death of a Spouse or Child	78
	The Negative Effects of Imprisonment on the Wrongfully Convicted	80
	Support for Prisoners and their Families	88
	Conclusion	90
3	Campaigns and Pressure Groups	92
	Pressure Group Diversity	93
	Defining Pressure Groups	95
	Pressure Group Typologies	97
	'Insider' and 'Outsider' Groups	99
	Pressure Groups, Democracy and the Political System	103
	Pluralism	103
	Neo-Pluralism	108
	Corporatism	109
	New Right Perspectives	111
	Marxist Perspectives	112
	Pressure Group Effectiveness: Organisation, Resources and Group Cooperation	113
	Organisation	115

	Mobilisation and Sanctions	117
	Pressure Groups, Influence and Public Policy	121
	Pressure Groups and the Media	121
	Conclusion	126
4	Methodology	128
	Aims and Objectives: Justification of Chosen Methods	128
	'Insider' Research and Miscarriages of Justice	130
	Method of Data Collection	136
	Observational Method	136
	Access	141
	Observational Bias	141
	The Interview Method	144
	The Participants	148
	Ethics and Informed Consent	149
	Recording of Data	150
	Recording Interviews: Note-Taking	153
	Conclusion	154

Part 2

5	Early Experiences of Participants as they Campaign against Miscarriages of Justice	157
	Setting up a Campaign Group	158

	First Decisions	160
	Joining Additional Pressure Groups	162
	United Against Injustice	163
	The Miscarriages of Justice Organisation	165
	Pressure Groups Against False Allegations of Abuse	166
	Revolutionary Groups and Miscarriages of Justice	167
	Individualised and Generalised Justice	169
	Problems and Difficulties	172
	New way of Life: Challenges for the Campaigner	172
	Managing and Supporting the Appellant	174
	Relationships with Legal Practitioners and the Campaign	175
	Motivation and Resilience	179
	Relational Bonds	179
	Innocence and the Motivation to Campaign	180
	Support from the Miscarriages of Justice Community	183
	The Miscarriages of Justice Community	186
	Shared Experience	188
	Marginalisation and Alienation	189
	Conclusion	193
6	Strategies and Tactics	196
	Campaign Focus	196
	Legal Team	197
	Emotional Support	200
	Media Influence	201
	Public Opinion	201

Undermining Criminal Justice Agencies	204
Working with the Criminal Cases Review Commission	205
Support whilst in Prison	207
Campaign Tactics	209
Writing Letters, the Internet and Networking	209
Contact with the Media and Investigative Journalists	212
Websites	214
‘Official’ Victims of Miscarriage and Campaigns for Justice	216
‘Unofficial’ Victims of Miscarriage and Campaigns for Justice	219
Campaign Priorities and Tactics: Relational Disharmony and Conflict	221
Campaign Leadership	223
Conclusion	227
7 Pressure Group Politics	231
Politics of Pressure Groups against Miscarriages of Justice	231
‘Victims’ and ‘Survivors of Miscarriages of Justice	236
‘Victims’ of Miscarriage and ‘Survivors’ of Crime	238
Victims of Serious Crime and the Appellant: Challenges for the Nuclear Family	241
Personal Campaigns: Decision-Making and Agendas	244
Justice Campaigns and Support Groups	249
Campaign for Justice	249
Direct Action	253
Demonstration 9 October 2010	254
Anarchist Bookfair 2010	261
Leadership and Resources	262

Women for Justice: Gender Differential of Campaign and Pressure Groups	264
Secure Environment	267
Coping with Loss	269
Conclusion	275
8 Analysis and Discussion	279
First Experiences of Campaigning against Miscarriages of Justice	280
Setting up a Campaign Group and First Decisions	280
New way of Life	285
Coping with the Appellant	286
Relationship with the Legal team	286
Motivation and Resilience	287
Miscarriages of Justice Community	289
Strategies and Tactics	296
Campaign Focus	296
Campaign Tactics	300
Previous Convictions and ‘Bad Character’	303
Campaigns Following Release: ‘Official’ and ‘Alleged’ Victims of Miscarriage of Justice	305
Relational Disharmony and Conflict	307
Typologies: Understanding Justice Campaigns	310
Campaign Groups, Democracy and Agendas	314
‘Direct Action’	319
‘Victims’ and ‘Survivors’ of Miscarriages of Justice	320
‘Victims’ of Miscarriages of Justice and ‘Survivors’ of Crime	322

Leadership, Resources and Staffing	326
Women for Justice: Gender Differential of Justice Campaigns	328
Secure Environment	328
Coping with Loss and Differential Grieving	330
Campaigns, the Media and Issues of Gender Representation	332
Support for the Appellant: Campaigner Responsibilities and the Issue of Gender	333
Conclusion	335
Conclusions	338
Future Research	352
Bibliography	354
Appendices
Appendix 1	431
Appendix 2	433
Appendix 3	440
Appendix 4	442
Appendix 5	445